

THE GRINNELL COLLEGE DEPARTMENT OF THEATRE AND DANCE PRESENTS

MICHAEL FRAYN'S
COPENHAGEN

Winner of the Olivier and Tony Awards for Best Play, Michael Frayn's 1998 Copenhagen dramatizes what could or should have happened in the mysterious 1941 wartime meeting between the German physicist Werner Heisenberg and his former mentor, the Danish physicist Niels Bohr, in Nazi-occupied Denmark.

An emotionally explosive play of ideas, Copenhagen draws on history, science, moral philosophy, and metaphysics to explore the mysteries of human behavior, "the final core of uncertainty at the heart of things."

This event is FREE and OPEN to the public. Tickets required and available beginning Monday 11/17. For ticket information contact Bucksbaum Center box office, 269-4444.
