Dear Ann-Janine:

Thank you for your reply, and I know the vein, or how you meant your encouragement and thank you for that, however, most of your countrymen are concerned even though they do not have time to write or speak, they vote.

Quick run down: ( lunch time)

You have a right to dissent --- Not to disrupt.

What are we doing in ~~Asia~~ Asia, you ask ?

The free world has an enemy, communism. You can't hide from it, it will not go away peacefully. You cannot build a wall around America. They tried that 60 years ago. History. The world is small. What concerns part of the world concerns all the world.

Am I my brother's keeper? Shouldn't I be concerned when he hungers? When he is being subjected by a government not of his choice?

~~XX~~ Definition of aggression: Hitler in Poland.

Russia in Hungary - ~~Czechoslovakia~~ Czechoslovakia (or how)

No. Korea in Korea

No. Vietnam (red china) in Vietnam; Laos

Why didn't we do something about Russia in Hungary or Czechoslovakia ? World War III, no doubt about it. Asia. We can try to stop it without causing World War III, maybe. It's worth the risk.

"We condemn the United States for its aggressive acts"--official repression"

How could a traitor have said it any better?

I do not have the right to march in front of the church. I disrupt and thereby infringe on the rights of those inside. When 550 or 1,000 kids riot and disrupt a campus they infringe on the rights of the other 9,000 .

The kids at Kent were there, by forethought, by remaining their very presence condoned the violence. Don't tell me they weren't doing anything. Think. The look-out or "driver" is as guilty as the rest of the robbers.

Once more: I disagreed with the finance program at church. I voted against it. I lost. Now, by abiding, I will try all possible to make it work because it was the will of the majority. I'm not going to sit around and cry or yell because I didn't get my way. The time for dissent is over. Now I will help.

No disrespect to your age intended. All I meant was even in a free country, one should have helped build something, helped contribute, helped pay for, before trying to influence others.

" Keep on - keeping on" You will make a fine citizen Ann-Janine
