John Bull Session

Maj. Edward M. Schwerin, '39, has been overseas for about a year with a troop carrier squadron.

Capt. Ray Crossman, Jr., '39, has been overseas for about a year with a paratroop field artillery battery.

Each knew that the other was near at hand in various theatres of operation, but they had never been able to communicate with each other or to see each other.

But this spring they finally met "somewhere in England" and were able to spend a weekend together. Ray and Ed were classmates in high school and roommates in Smith Hall for their four years at Grinnell, so their getting together was really a big reunion.

Rubie Burton, '26, Appointed Member of California Commission

Rubie Burton, '26, a member of the teaching staff of the Santa Barbara, Calif., public schools, has been appointed to the curriculum commission of the state of California.

The commission is composed of college presidents, school superintendents and principals. Miss Burton is the only class room representative. The commission reviews and recommends new text books and prepares a framework of education for the entire state from first grade through junior college.

Miss Burton, who received her M. A. from Columbia university, has done graduate work for three summers at the University of California. She has also taken special work at Santa Barbara State College. Before going to Santa Barbara she taught at Miami and Miami Beach, Fla., and St. Louis, Mo.

Harriet Case, '97 Honored By Music Magazine

The January issue of the "Musical Leader" contains a picture of Harriet Case, '97, and an account of her achievements in the field of music.

Miss Case, who received her Ph. B. degree in 1897 and her A. B. in 1927, is a member of the faculty of the Cosmopolitan School of Music in Chicago, Ill. After many seasons as a concert and oratorio artist, she has gradually given up the platform to devote her time to teaching.

The article states that Miss Case's skill in diagnosis has brought her many professional singers and teachers, in addition to her regular students.

Miss Case was recently married to William H. Merner, Iowa attorney. She is continuing her teaching at the Cosmopolitan School where she is a member of the board of directors.

Ted Lewis Attendant at Pennsylvania School

Ted Lewis, ex '40, is an attendant at the Pennhurst state school for feeble-minded at Pennhurst, Pa.

He writes that during the last two years, as a member of the Civilian Public Service, he has served as a research worker for the Soil Conservation Service, Coshoc-ton, Ohio; as a forest fire fighter in southern California; and as a member of the Smokejumper unit of the Forest Service in Montana, in which men are specially trained in the use of parachute landings as a means of controlling fires in remote and otherwise inaccessible areas.

While in California, Ted visited George Haight, '39, who is working at the Student Relocation Center in San Francisco, helping to place Japanese-American students in colleges in the middle west; and Richard Inglis, '42 who is a supervisor of the Forest Service Nursery at San Bernadino.

At Pennhurst Ted often sees Wesley Shike, ex '45, who is also an attendant at the school.

Lieut. Robert M. Adams, ex '43, was graduated in May from the Army Air Forces pilot school at Marfa, Tex.

Lieut. Bruce P. Badger, '38, received his wings and commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force last January. Since his graduation Lieutenant Badger has been an instructor in the use of instruments and radio aids to navigation at Waco, Tex.

Lieutenant Badger writes: "May I congratulate you on your publication. It is a real pleasure to take all the time necessary to read it completely. I really do look forward to receiving it."

He also says: "If you have any knowledge of Grinnell people in or about Waco, or any Grinnellians in the army stationed here, will you please let me know for I should like to contact them if I can."

Ensign Lucile Hanson, '40, is stationed at Hunter College in New York as a company commander of WAVE recruits.

A picture of Lieut. (jg) Edward B. Harvey, '38, was printed May 21 in a Chicago newspaper. He was captain of an American patrol craft which destroyed an enemy motor torpedo boat attempting to attack allied ships off Anzio, Italy.

Lieut. (jg) Max W. Hunn, '37, writes from somewhere "in the Mediterranean":

"Have met only one Grinnellian since I joined the service in September, 1942. He was Allen Rossman, '37, who came to the SCTL unit at Miami, Fla., just prior to my leaving there last February.

"Have often hoped that I would run into some Grinnellians somewhere in the world, but so far have had no luck in Persia, India, Australia, or Panama. Am still hoping, however.

"Here's hoping that you can continue to keep up the good work with the alumni paper."

Lieut. Laurence Janssen, '23, is on active duty in the South Pacific with the navy.

Lieut. Richard S. McQueen, ex '43, recently returned from service outside the continental United States.

Lieutenant McQueen flew 11 missions as a B-25 pilot during one year in the Asiatic Pacific area.

Prior to entering the service, Lieutenant McQueen was employed in Chicago.

Lieut. Ronald J. Preston, '39, recently returned from overseas service.

Lieutenant Preston flew 32 combat missions in the Southwest Pacific area as a B-25 Mitchell and B-24 Liberator bombardier. He was awarded the Air Medal and Presidential Unit Citation.

Lieut. (jg) Robert L. Whitely, '40, writes to Louis V. Phelps from "somewhere in the south Pacific": "We are supposed to return for a leave after 18 months—hope to visit Grinnell then—should be about Christmas time. Expect I can find some familiar faces even yet—said he, as he stroked his long white beard."
