Coast Evacuees Arrive on Campus

One Will Live In Gates Hall; Other in Town

Three Japanese-American students, evacuees from the Pacific coast, arrived in Grinnell at 3:55 this morning on the Rocky Mountain Rocket. They are Barbara Takahashi, William Kiyasu, and Akiki Hosoi.

Meanwhile, Dr. Henry S. Conard, dean of faculty, announced that the application of a fourth Japanese student has been approved and he will arrive soon. He is Hisaki Sakai, San Francisco high school senior. Confirmation of his application was received by telegram yesterday from Joseph Conard, '33, head of the student evacuation for the American Friends' Service committee on the west coast.

Stanley Shikuma, announced last week as a prospective Grinnell student, will not come here, Dr. Conard added, but will enroll at Colorado College this week.

Miss Takahashi, a senior at Los Angeles' Roosevelt high school, led her class of 531 and was prominent in extra-curricular activities. She will live with the Conards.

Kiyasu has been invited to live in Gates hall, and will move into the dormitories immediately, Dr. Conard said. He has been an honor student at the University of California.

Miss Hosoi will live in the Mears guest room. She was a fellow student of Miss Takahashi, and was also an honor student at Roosevelt high school.

Details of Sakai's plans have not been decided, Dr. Conard said. He may attend either high school or college classes.

Registration Set May 11-23

Official Notice Needed for Summer School Students

This year's registration will be from May 11 to May 23, in order that students may have ample time to work out the best schedule possible, Miss Bethana McCandleless, registrar, said today.

She stated that students should contact their advisors immediately and make appointments with them for anytime within the registration period.

Anyone planning to attend summer school should see their counselor and make up their next year's schedule in connection with their summer work, Miss McCandleless reported.

She stated that students with summer school plans must register as an official notice must be had from Grinnell before a student can take summer work in another school.

Miss McCandleless pointed out that there have been several changes in the curriculum, and added that there will be several subjects listed on the class schedule to be issued Monday, that were not listed in the catalogue.

Replace Nininger And Vincent as Quadrangle League Board Officers

Elizabeth Beck, James junior, was elected quadrangle social chairman for 1942-43 at League Board meeting last night. At the same time, Florence Gorsuch, James junior, was elected quadrangle treasurer.

Miss Beck served as chairman of this year's group leaders and was chairman of the conservation committee, thereby serving on the W. S. G. A. War Service council. She was recently elected to the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for next year and has been vice-president of Forensic this year.

8 O'clock Classes Superseded By Conditioning for Duration

The time-honored eight o'clock class is destined to become strictly a muscle building affair, according to plans released last night by Pres. Samuel N. Stevens and Bethana McCandleless, registrar.

With morning classes slated to begin at 9 a. m. for the duration of the war, President Stevens said that the period from eight until nine would be used for conditioning for everybody.

Sink Slaves Wipe 3000 Dishes Daily

By Al Arney

The slaves to a sink, who wipe dishes in the quadrangle and dormitory kitchens, dry more dishes for one meal than the average housewife wipes in five months, the they sponge off four times as many in one day as the average wife does in a year.

With approximately 300 students in each of the dormitory systems, and two skultery slaves wiping all the dishes in each kitchen, approximately 1200 dishes are wiped after supper and lunch, and a slightly smaller number after breakfast.

All in all the salivary glands of 600 students overflow and clean the tasty morsels from about 15 million dishes each school year, which in turn have to be racked, rinsed, and shoved through the ancient washers to the automatic motions of the dish wipers hands; not to speak of the pots and pans that are burned, battered and scoured day after day, or the glasses which end up clean, but spotted after every meal. These would wear the average housewife's finger bones to the marrow for 525 meals, without allowing her to change the diapers on the baby, or have excess breakage by hefty tosses at her husband.

Each wiper has the personal satisfaction of knowing that he has probably wiped more dishes in his short career of toil over the china racks than his mother has had in her complete culinary pursuits. This will no doubt give him courage to know that the experience will be of great aid to him when he has a little sink of his own and will only have 25 dishes per meal to wipe for his wife instead of 1200 here at his four year homestead.
