Willard New Quad Social Chairman

Margery Willard, Haines junior was named quadrangle social chairman for 1943-44 Monday night, by the combined league boards of this and next year, according to Barbara Wagner, president-elect of that organization.

As social chairman, Miss Willard will direct activities of the social budget committee in sponsoring special programs for quad residents. She will be in charge of the social chairmen of all quadrangle cottages.

Andover Dean Guest Speaker For Sunday

Dean Vaughn Dabney of Andover-Newton Theological Seminary is scheduled as guest speaker in college church Sunday. His subject is "The Heroic Days."

Of special interest to students and faculty in connection with Dr. Dabney's visit at this time is that just about 100 years ago the Iowa Band, which had much to do with the founding of Grinnell college, graduated from Andover-Newton Seminary.

Dean Dabney is dean of the Andover-Newton faculty in Newton Center, Mass., Bartlett Professor of Preaching. He holds honorary degrees from the Chicago Theological Seminary and Colby college.

Bringolf, Meinkey, Baer Will Give Recitals Soon

Three student recitals are scheduled for the coming week, according to J. Forrest West, music department head. Tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. Virginia Bringolf, soprano, will sing, accompanied by Harriet Cook.

Eileen Meinkey, pianist, will be heard on May 4 at 7:30 p. m., and Verna Baer will give a violin recital on May 7, 7:30. All will take place in Herrick chapel, and admission is free.

Present Prizes

We'll Get the Lowdown

At Brown Derby

Grinnell students will glean information about who's who and what's what on the campus, when the various prizes for work more or less well done are awarded at the Brown Derby dance this Saturday evening.

Among the traditional gifts to be bestowed at Saturday's clam-bake are the brown derby, the brown bonnet, the leather medal, and the blanket and pillow.

According to Barbara Brann, president of Theta Sigma Phi, Grinnell's Skyliner orchestra will hit the downbeat at 9 p. m.

She stated that the dance is open to both students and soldiers.

Holdings of Gadabout tickets will be admitted free; stag, 75 cents; couple, $1 without Gadabout tickets.

Open House

Open house for college students and officer candidates will be held Sunday afternoon, May 2, in the quadrangle Recreation room, from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock. Arrangements will be in charge of Elizabeth Beck, quadrangle social chairman, assisted by Nan Pye, Haines sophomore, and Louise Mayer, Mears freshman.

Central Iowa Symphony Plays Here Sunday

A concert will be performed by the Central Iowa Symphony orchestra on Sunday, May 2 in Herrick chapel, according to David E. Peck, director.

The orchestra is composed of musicians from Grinnell, Toledo, Newton, Oskaloosa, and Pella who have been rehearsing here despite the gasoline situation. The concert will begin at 4:00 p. m., and is free to all.

It will be an all-Mozart program, including:

- Overture to "Marriage of Figaro"
- Piano Concerto in D major (Coronation Concerto) Piano soloist, Mary Jean Coffelt.
- Symphony in G (Prague Symphony)

Due Tomorrow - -
Ten Bucks
- - for Room Deposits

All college women in residence in the quadrangle were reminded today by Miss Evelyn Gardner, dean of women, that the $10 room deposit fee must be paid to the college treasurer's office by tomorrow, Saturday, May 1, in order to be eligible for selection of a room for next year. Upperclass women will choose their rooms tomorrow afternoon between 12:30 and 3:00 p. m. in Main hall drawing room, she said.

Housechairmen, Roommates for New Year Named

Housechairmen and their roommates for next year will be as follows, according to Barbara Wagner, new League Board president: In Main hall, Carol Macoubrey, housechairman, with Shirley Ripple and Evelyn Myers as her roommates; Mears cottage, Henrietta Miller with Marion Roland, Joan Barlow, Ruth Hackett, and Barbara Wagner.

Cleveland, Patricia Knop with Verna Baer, Lois Terrill, Rhoda Mallory, June Thomsen, and Barbara Berkely; James, Sue Russell, with Jean Wolstead, Lucy Trowbridge, and Helen Landes; Haines, Elizabeth Adkins, with Isabel Simon, Marilyn McCool, Marjorie Childs, Val Ballantine, and Jean Finnegan.

McKeon Releases Letters About College Petitions

The action of groups of Grinnell college students concerning the Findlay Memorial to move Japanese students out of midwest colleges was recalled this week when William McKeon, president of the student council at the time of the discussion, released for publication several letters he has received from persons in government service to whom reports of the Grinnell opposition were sent.

Milo Rundall German Prisoner; Milliken Missing

Lieutenant Milo Rundall, ex '42, who was reported this spring as missing in action is now reported a prisoner of Germany, according to the Des Moines Register of April 27.

James Milliken of Omaha, who attended Grinnell for two years, 1936-1938, was reported missing after a plane accident near Langley Field, Virginia, according to a radio news broadcast April 27.

Dibble Withdraws from Fetzer Sing; Seven Contenders Remain

The withdrawal of Dibble hall from the third annual Fetzer sing contest has narrowed the competition for the men's trophy to only two halls, but both Read and Gates-Smith will participate in the Sunday preliminaries, according to Marjorie Childs, Haines, chairman.

No men's hall will be eliminated in the preliminaries, however, she said. They will participate merely to gain experience.

Only three of the five women's cottages participating will be selected for the final competition, however. First judging will be done at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening, May 2, on Blair hall steps.

Selections of the participating groups are as follows:

Cleveland: God of All Nature, and You and the Waltz and I.

Persons writing to McKeon include K. M. LeCompte, congressman from the fourth district of Iowa; Guy M. Gillette, Iowa senator and member of the Senate committee on foreign relations; and George A. Wilson, senator and member of the Senate committee on military affairs.

LeCompte also included in his letter a copy of communications received from the departments of state and war, to which he had sent the Grinnell correspondence along with similar letters opposing passage of the Findlay memorial.

John J. McCloy, of the assistant secretary's office, War Department, said in part, "The communication recently addressed by the faculty and student council of Grinnell College . . . has been referred to the War Relocation authority for further reply to you . . . I might add, however, that the War Department has assisted the War Relocation authority in its student relocation program, and looks upon the attitude of the Iowa Senate as unfortunate."

Cordell Hull, secretary of state, in his memorandum to LeCompte, made reference to the President's address of Jan. 6, 1942, and to a letter to the Secretary of War on Feb. 1, 1943, both of which discussed race discrimination in its bearing upon the unity of the American people and the United Nations.

Mears: Pale Moon and Smoke Gets in Your Eyes.

Haines: My Hero, and In My Garden.

James: The Donkey Serenade, and All the Things You Are.

Main: Somebody Loves You, and I'll Remember.

Read: Coast Guard Song, and Read hall Sweetheart song.

Gates-Smith: Down by the Riverside, and I Want a Girl.

Judges for the contest will be Mrs. J. Forrest West, Norman Goodbrod, Paul Behm, and Mrs. Marjery Bouma, Miss Childs said.

Art, Literature Awards To Be Given At Chapel

The annual awards in drama, art, and literature will be awarded at chapel next Thursday, according to Stuart G. Brown, associate professor of English.
